

November 13, 2012

I've worked at 21st and M since the late 1980s. The availability of food trucks is one of the best improvements in the quality of work life since I arrived. DC government should be encouraging the expansion of their availability rather than putting in place rules that limit where they can locate and their ability to thrive.

Thanks,

Doug Wissoker