Thanks, Chief Groomes,

Can I assume these are "official" comments from MPD on the sign regulations or are they from the BID. Regardless I would be happy to include these comments for consideration as we review and consider revising our proposed sign regulations.

By the way, David, there is a prohibition against signs on vehicles that will address some of your concerns but not unfortunately food truck signs.

609 SIGNS ON VEHICLES

609.1 Unless otherwise specifically allowed by law, no advertising sign shall be transported over public space, except signs displayed on motor vehicles that advertise the bona fide business of the owner. No full motion video displays may be affixed to any part of a motor vehicle.

Thanks for your feedback on these proposed regulations.

Alice

My comments, if I was still on the enforcement side of this issue...just some food for thought.....

Current-

201.2 Every sign for which a permit is issued shall be marked with the permit number and the date of the permit's issuance in letters not less than one inch (1 in.) in height. This information shall be displayed in the lower right corner of the sign.

Recommended

201.2 Every sign for which a permit is issued shall display an affixed permit number issued by the issuing agency displaying the permit number, date of issuance and issuing agency in letters not less than one inch (1 in.) in height. This information shall be displayed in the lower right corner of the sign, except for "sandwich board signs" which shall be displayed on the upper right corner of the sign.

-(easier to read during inspections if on upper right hand corner of sandwich board signs)

Current-

605.4 A temporary sign that is related to a specific event shall be removed no later than thirty (30) days following the event to which it is related. This does not extend the time limit designated in § 605.3.

Recommended-removed no later than ten (10) days....

Why 30?- think this section is mainly for political signs on public space, but has other applications

Current-

606.3 The owner or occupant of a business premise may, during the time the establishment is open for business, use the space in front of the building, up to three feet (3 ft.) from the building wall, for the display of one (1) freestanding sidewalk sign (A-frame, sandwich board, or other portable unlit sign). The sign shall:

Recommended-

..., up to three feet (3 ft.) from a building wall, running parallel to the exterior building wall of the business,(prior to "the sign shall") add the following....for businesses with a sidewalk café, the sign shall be inside the perimeter of the café as described above....

Current-

606.4 Signs displayed under § 606.3 shall:

This section deals with A-frame or sandwich board signs- section (d) deals with permit display on signs (see comments in 201.2)

Current

609.1 Unless otherwise specifically allowed by law, no advertising sign shall be transported over public space, except signs displayed on motor vehicles that advertise the bona fide business of the owner. No full motion video displays may be affixed to any part of a motor vehicle.

Know this deals with signs, but to avoid another 90 pages or legislation would add the following....no advertising sign or audio shall be transported.... (food trucks!!! To name a few)

Get ready for the bright lights and multiple message boards in Chinatown (see Designated Entertainment Area – DEA); includes SW Waterfront, Ballpark as well- Section 800 (Verizon already approved by council preceding this proposal)

Good Afternoon -

Alice Kelly has sent me the link (see below) to the Proposed Sign Regulations. Six different agencies have been working on these for a long time. We have 60 days to review. Who should we be targeting to participate in a DCBIA Sign Regulation Focus Group? Who would be a good leader?
